Let's rewrite the racial narrative.

RACISM. The history is deep and painful.

However, together we can REWRITE THIS RACIAL NARRATIVE. It begins with awareness and real conversations focused on solutions.

JOIN US for the Next BLACKNESS PROJECT Film Screening and Community Discussion.

Monday, September 17, 2018
6 pm - 8 pm.

Community Event: There is no cost for this event.

WHY THE BLACKNESS PROJECT: The Blackness Project's goal is to educate, elevate, and engage Americans in an effort to bridge the racial divide in our country by creating a meaningful dialogue on race.

"With this film we have a desire to share voices that may not have been heard, to elevate the power of inclusion and encourage serious conversations that lead to community led solutions," stated Director Korey Green, and Executive Producer

THE DISCUSSION: Each Screening is Followed by A Community Conversation led by an invited panel.

About “The Blackness Project”: The Blackness Project, created by award winning film producer, Korey Green, seeks to rewrite America's racial narrative. The film is a featured length educational documentary about culture and race from the African American perspective.

Although inspired from conversations about the “Whiteness Project”, a documentary in which participants discuss race and the perceived loss of white privilege by white Americans, “The Blackness Project” mission is to educate, elevate, and engage Americans to bridge the racial divide in our country by creating a meaningful dialogue on race. #TheBlacknessProject
